

2019 SoJournal

Diary and sustainable guide

Your daily guide to creating and supporting a sustainable life. Together we take one step at a time, in favour of our environment, creating a world where we can thrive beyond survival. Discover the amazing cutting edge products and services available in SA, that support our journey toward an eco-friendly, sustainable future for our beautiful country.

This 'page a day' diary connects you to knowledge shared by passionate people, who you can support in return, for embracing their purpose of providing all the resources we need.

This 12th edition of the SoJournal consists of...

- Daily gardening activities in tune with the moon
- Details of the moons movements, with planetary insight
- Weekly facts about plant remedies and useful recipes
- Monthly practical 'self-sufficiency' concepts, easy to implement
- Seasonal seeds to plant and ways to grow an Urban garden
- Water wise methods that ultimately, encourages more rain.
- Directory of local resources available to support our daily lives, to network, inter-connect and share our skills.

The SoJournal invites all eco friendly products and related services to participate
